FOREWORD

The Government of Sikkim has placed the utmost importance on the education sector by dedicating nearly 20% of the State's budget to it. This significant investment has resulted in substantial progress, as evidenced by the exemplary performance of our students in competitive examinations, the achievement of doctoral and post-doctoral degrees, and successful employment both within India and abroad.

Numerous initiatives, jointly managed at the national and state levels, have been undertaken to enhance access to quality education, especially for economically and socially disadvantaged groups. In response to the thriving competition from private schools, the Government sector has made concerted efforts to provide parents and children with what they most need and want: quality education that opens doors to better life opportunities.

Education encompasses numerous indicators, with 'values' being of prime importance. Beyond academic excellence, our children are taught to respect women and elders, maintain peace and harmony, show concern for the environment, uphold cleanliness, contribute to society, and participate in programs such as yoga and self-defense (for girls). Training for School Managing Committees and community mobilization programs are also organized.

Government interventions have successfully secured accreditation for seven Sikkim Government Colleges by the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC), marking a significant achievement in the Higher Education sector. The RUSA (Rashtriya Uchchar Shiksha Abhiyan) scheme has played a crucial role in augmenting college infrastructure and improving the quality of higher education through enhanced funding, modern facilities, and capacity-building initiatives.

The Samagra Shiksha project has successfully reintegrated most out-of-school children into the educational system. Incentives such as the mid-day meal scheme, free uniforms, textbooks, raincoats, shoes, and socks have helped retain students in the school system. This scheme has also provided infrastructural support to accommodate a larger number of students and includes components for the education of differently-abled children.

The PM SHRI (Pradhan Mantri Schools for Rising India) scheme has significantly enhanced educational infrastructure and resources in schools across the state, providing modern facilities, quality teaching, and holistic development opportunities for students. This initiative complements existing efforts like Samagra Shiksha, further ensuring that quality education is accessible to all children, including those with special needs.

In line with these approaches and the Education Policy, the Government launched several initiatives to improve the teaching-learning process and teacher development programs. The department made comprehensive efforts to implement these Government policies. This report consolidates the activities from various sections of the Department.

Workshop deliberates on strategy to curb gender based violence

GANGTOK, December 4 (IPR): Rural Development secretary Tshewang Gyachho presided over a workshop, titled "National Campaign Against Gender-Based Violence" held with the theme "Nayi Chetna-Pahal Badlav ki- Year 2" at the conference hall of the Rural Development department today.

The workshop was organised by Sikkim Rural Livelihood Mission (SRLM), RDD.

"Sahenge Nahi, Kahenge, Chuppi Todenge" is a tagline for the national campaign against gender-based violence. It signifies a strong determination to break the silence surrounding such violence and encourages speaking up against it.

The International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women celebration, commemorated on November 25 across all Indian State and Union Territories, will continue until December 23.

The programme began with the keynote address by Subha Mukhia, chief executive officer, Sikkim Rural Livelihood Mission (SRLM). Mukhia said the campaign focuses on a number of gender issues, including promoting inclusivity and diversity, empowering women, advocating for gender equality, and creating a more equitable society.

Tshewang Gyachho, in his address, stated, "National campaign against gender based violence is crucial for raising awareness, educating communities, and advocating for change."

He said that the Nayi Chetna campaign aims to eradicate all forms of violence and promote respect, equality, and safety for everyone regardless of gender.

He mentioned that the initiative intends to enhance the knowledge and awareness of members of self-help groups regarding gender-based violence and to promote the reporting of such instances. It also seeks to challenge and transform societal norms that legitimise and promote particular forms of violence.

The campaign involves various stakeholders, including governmental bodies, NGOs, activists, and communities to create a united front against such violence, he added.

The slogan- 'Sahenge Nahi, Kahenge, Chuppi Todenge' conveys a message of solidarity, urging people to refuse to tolerate gender-based violence and to break the silence by speaking out and taking action against it, he concluded.

Yashna Gurung, deputy project manager, Social Inclusion Social Development (SI & SD), RDD, gave a brief presentation on the gender based campaign and outlined the broad spectrum of community-level initiatives that each line department should undertake.

She asserted that by placing a strong focus on awareness, communication, convergence, and capacity building, people, groups, and service providers will be encouraged to recognise violence, speak out against it, ask for help, express solidarity, and take action against issues as well as instances of gender-based violence.

In addition, she stressed that it is imperative to carry out education campaigns that educate young people about various forms of violence, such as cyberbullying, stalking, and other gender-based violence directed towards marginalised communities.

Gurung further underlined the necessity of running legal awareness campaigns for women's rights, citing the following laws: The Transgender Persons Protection of Rights Act of 2019, The SC/ST Atrocities Act, Domestic Violence Act - 2005, Prevention of Sexual Harassment (POSH Act-2013), POSCO (Prevention of Children from Sexual Offence) Act 2012 and Special Rights under CrPc (Criminal Procedure Code).

Similarly, she emphasised the significance of educating people about the submission of Domestic Incident Reports (DIRs), One Stop Centres, Child Welfare Committee, Women Helplines, and the establishment of links between Gender Resource Centres (GRC) and One Stop Centres in order to strengthen the accessibility of services to those impacted.

Concluding her presentation, Gurung urged everyone to participate in gender forum meetings and get gender sensitization training in order to build relationships with local institutions.

Subsequently, open discussions were held about cutting down structural barriers to a dignified life free from fear, discrimination, and violence based on gender and intersecting identities, as well as about enhancing the agency and rights of women and people of gender varied backgrounds.

Seeking support and initiative to combat gender-based violence, the RDD secretary handed the line departments informational booklets, posters and brochures that include crucial information, resources for help, helpline numbers, and messages of empowerment.

Textbook Directorate's role on GLOF affected districts of Sikkim

In the early hours of October 4, the glacier-fed South Lhonak Lake in North Sikkim breached, causing a Glacial Lake Outburst Flood (GLOF) that destroyed the state's largest hydro power plant and left at least 35 people dead and around 104 missing as on October 9. Consequently, hundreds of students were left homeless and all the learning materials were washed away by the flood on the fateful day.

So, to cope with the issue of unavailability of learning materials a team from Directorate of Textbook and Languages, Education Department, Government of Sikkim organized a One-Day Tour on 18th October 2023 to distribute Textbooks and Exercise copies to schools with students affected by Glacial Lake Outburst Flood (GLOF) of Gangtok and Pakyong Districts.

The main objective of the tour was to provide textbooks and exercise copies to students affected by GLOF and help them regain access to Education which would contribute to their resilience and recovery from disaster.

Among the Government schools, a complete set of textbooks were given to Kindergarten Classes of the affected Schools, 90% of textbooks were given to the affected students of classes III to VIII and 100% textbooks were given to the affected students of classes IX to XII. Likewise, a complete set of Exercise copies were given to the affected students studying in government schools of both the districts.

A total of 8160 exercise copies were distributed to the affected students of private schools falling under both the districts. As the academic curriculum of private institutions is different from that of government Schools, the textbooks could not be given to the affected students of private schools.

To aid the smooth functioning of academic monitoring, ATTC has its own Management Information Software (MIS) which has been instrumental in maintaining details such as student attendance, uploading of class notes, lectures, assignments, display of examination results which are accessible to all students and teachers. This software is also being used by the HoDs to monitor the general conduct and interaction between the teachers and students.

A monthly Academic Review Meeting is conducted by the Academic In charge in the presence of Head of Departments, Course In charges and the Principal to assess the class conduction, syllabus coverage, sessional test performance and project completion status of each branch. Any rating less than the desired 80% completion is investigated individually, and the teachers and students are then asked to conduct extra classes to ensure that the subject conduct is brought up to par.

3. Special Intervention Programmes for Foundational Literacy and Numeracy in the State

In the light of the recommendation of NEP 2020, SCERT Sikkim has started some intervention programmes designed specifically for achieving Foundational Literacy and Numeracy in the state by 2026-27. Some of the special programmes are as mentioned follow

i) Special Numeracy Programme with Innovative Pedagogy

Aligned with the NIPUN Bharat- NIPUN Sikkim mission, the Special Numeracy Programme was initiated in 2023-24 in 245 selected schools across 6 districts in Sikkim. It evolved from the need to focus on the development of Number sense during the Foundational years (3 to 8 years). Numeracy being a key component and an area where teachers require more support, it was felt that a programme be developed where teachers are supported, and children learn joyfully in a fear free environment. The first step was to train and develop a set of State Resource Group (SRGs) and Mentors who would be instrumental in taking the whole mission to other schools where SCERT and DIET would find difficulty in supporting teachers directly. The identification of SRGs and Mentors was done by the office of Chief Education Officers of respective districts. They were selected from an identified pool of primary teachers teaching Mathematics in classes 1 & 2. The whole design of the programme revolves around the following components:

1. Nodal Schools: Nodal schools in districts act as an exemplar school where SRGs and Mentors try out new activities, classroom demonstrations and carry out initial assessments with the children of that schools with support from resource person from Jodogyan, SCERT and DIET. The whole workshop for both SRGs and Mentors takes place in the Nodal schools. There are 8 Nodal Schools spread over the six districts. Since all workshops and training happen with children of nodal schools, it is expected that the teachers of these schools will be more acquainted with the activities and the children become more familiar and better equipped with strong foundational number sense.
2. SRG Schools: 33 SRG schools have been identified across all the 33 blocks along with 33 SRG teachers who will act as the resource person at the block level. SRG schools will also become the centre for training mentor teachers identified from the cluster schools.
3. Mentor Schools: There are 106 clusters and two teachers have been identified from each cluster totaling 212 mentor teachers who are given training every month in their respective district nodal schools. The mentors are going to be the key when the programme is upscaled across all the schools in the state. Mentors from each cluster along with the support of SRG and DIET will be training all the teachers at the cluster level.

The workshop follows a cyclic pattern where new activities are conducted with the children of nodal schools in the presence of SRGs and mentor teachers. These activities are done at the school level by the SRGs and mentors with their own children. The teachers record all the activities day-wise in the register for each child. During district level workshops, discussion is held to understand how the classes have been conducted and what difficulties are faced by the teachers and children. The plan for each month is made with active participation of teachers.

So far, six workshops have been conducted for SRGs and Mentors. Baseline assessment of 60 schools for classes 1& 3 was completed in the month of April and the analysis is being carried out at present and the findings will also be presented.

ii). Development of Preschool Curriculum & Training of Pre – Primary Teachers on Early Childhood Care & Education (ECCE):

As mandated by National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, provisioning of quality early childhood development, care, and education must be achieved as soon as possible, and not later than 2030, to ensure that all students entering Grade 1 are school ready. (NEP 2020 - Page 7: Para 2).

In the light of above recommendations, SCERT Sikkim constituted a State Resource Group (SRG) that consisted of faculties of SCERT and DIETs – Gangtok, Namchi and Gyalshing for developing the pre-school curriculum. The SRG led by a coordinator was supported by Resource Persons from Azim Premji University and it took a total of 8 rigorous workshops between December 2022 – December 2023 to develop the curriculum. The Preschool Curriculum thus developed is in line with National Curriculum Framework – Foundational Stage (NCF-FS) 2022 to provide a guide for teacher to understand the learners, their learning needs, and the pedagogical processes to be followed at the foundational level – Preschool I, II & III.

After the development of curriculum, the SRG members trained the pre-primary Teachers (PPTs) in 14 training venues across the State from January 22- February 10, 2024. During the training, PPTs were familiarized with the content and pedagogical processes to transact the curriculum in the classroom.

The teachers found the content and pedagogical processes meaningful and enjoyable and also found easy to implement in classroom.

iii). Development of FLN Module and Capacity Building of District Resource Persons (DRPs) on Foundational Literacy & Numeracy (FLN)

Foundational learning is the basis of all future learning for a child. Not achieving basic foundational skills of being able to read with comprehension, writing and doing basic mathematics operations, leaves the child unprepared for the complexities of the curriculum beyond grade 3. Recognizing the importance of early learning, the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 states that “Our highest priority must be to achieve universal foundational literacy and numeracy in primary schools by 2026-27.(NEP 2020 Page No. 8)

National Initiative for Proficiency in Reading with Understanding and Numeracy (NIPUN Bharat Mission), has mandated to create a Pool of Key Resource Persons consisting of DIETs, SCERT, School Heads and Teachers for Mentoring and Guiding Teachers on FLN. Accordingly, the SCERT, Sikkim undertook the development of FLN Training Module and oriented the teachers who would work as District Resource Persons (DRPs) to train teachers at Block level. The module was developed through series of discussions held in three workshops held between August 2023 – January 2024.

The objective of developing the FLN module was to enable teacher follow the pedagogy to help students attain basic literacy and numeracy at foundational level. The activities given in the module are aligned to the content of textbooks (of Class I & II) thereby enabling the teachers to transact the content to facilitate students attain the FLN Goals. The development of FLN module was followed by orientation of DRPs from February 19-March 1,2024. A total of 152 DRPs have been trained and mapped to 33 blocks. This was further followed by training of teachers (2 teachers per school) by DRPs at Block level from March 20 -22,2024 & March 26-28,2024.
